Printing tips. Print at "Actual size" or "100%" (not "Fit to page"). Use the US Letter file in the US and Canada, A4 everywhere else. Card stock makes cards last longer. Print only the pages you need, and print extra player sheets for bigger groups. Answer keys are on pages 46–47.

Planning the night? Start with the Elf Name game as guests arrive, play Bingo or Trivia at the table, hand out gifts with the Left-Right story, and finish with the Gift-Reveal Scavenger Hunt. Puzzles keep kids busy while dinner cooks.

Gift-Reveal Scavenger Hunt

1 Hide the gift. (Gift too big to wrap, or a trip? Hide a filled-in reveal card from page 8 instead.)

2 Each clue card rhymes about one place; its corner letter tells you which (list below). The card for the gift's hiding place is the last clue.

3 Work backwards: hide that last card somewhere else, then take the card for that place and hide it somewhere new. Repeat 5 to 12 times.

4 Hand the hunter the last card you picked up (or write its place on a "Start here" card). Use the planner to keep track.

A sends them to: Fridge
B sends them to: Freezer
C sends them to: Washing machine
D sends them to: Your pillow
E sends them to: Bathtub
F sends them to: Mailbox
G sends them to: Christmas tree
H sends them to: Bookshelf
I sends them to: A shoe
J sends them to: Couch cushions
K sends them to: Mirror
L sends them to: Toy box
M sends them to: Front door
N sends them to: Coat closet
O sends them to: Sock drawer
P sends them to: Pantry
Q sends them to: Dishwasher
R sends them to: Toothbrush

Example: the gift is in the toy box. Card L (Toy box) goes in the fridge. Card A (Fridge) goes under a pillow. Hand the hunter card D (Your pillow) to start: pillow → fridge → toy box → gift! Little ones: use 5 clues and walk along. Older kids: hide the clues inside envelopes or books.

Christmas Bingo

GAME 2 · CALLER SLIPS

How to play Give each player a card and some markers (mini marshmallows or chocolate chips work well). Cut out the slips below, fold them and put them in a hat. Draw one at a time and read it out; players cover that word. The star in the middle is free. First to get five in a row (across, down or diagonal) shouts “Ho ho ho!” and wins. For a longer game, play four corners or full card.

GAME 4 · READ ALOUD

How to play Everyone sits in a circle holding one wrapped gift (small treats or white-elephant gifts work well). One person reads the story out loud. Each time you hear LEFT, pass your gift to the left; each time you hear RIGHT, pass it to the right. When the story ends, keep the gift you are holding!

It was Christmas Eve, and Santa was RIGHT in the middle of packing his sleigh when he noticed something was LEFT on the workshop floor: one small red present with no name tag.

"Well, that's not RIGHT," said Santa. He called the elves, who LEFT their cocoa and came running. "Somebody LEFT this present behind! Who is it for?"

The tallest elf turned it LEFT. The smallest elf turned it RIGHT. Nobody could read the tag, because a reindeer had licked it. "I think it's for the family on the LEFT side of Maple Street," said one elf. "No, the house on the RIGHT!" said another.

At the first house, Santa slid down the chimney and tiptoed LEFT toward the tree. He set down the gifts, but the little red present was not RIGHT for anyone there. So back up he went, RIGHT up the chimney, with only a little soot LEFT on his nose.

At the next house, a cat was waiting RIGHT by the fireplace. It swatted the present LEFT, then RIGHT, then LEFT again, until Santa scooped it up. "Not for you, kitty," he laughed, and off he went.

All night long the present went LEFT and RIGHT across the sky. By sunrise there was only one house LEFT: a cozy little home with a crooked wreath and a plate of cookies RIGHT by the door. Santa read the note beside the cookies: "Dear Santa, please bring something to share with everyone."

"Well, now I know RIGHT where you belong," Santa said. He LEFT the red present under the tree and hurried home. In the morning the family opened it and found... a game for the whole family to play together. And that is exactly what YOU are doing RIGHT now!

So whoever is holding a present, keep it, and Merry Christmas! Nobody is LEFT out!
